John, I believe what we have in mind is to create a special account for Berry's Creek, put the $300K in that, and then let the group draw from it. We will probably want to parcel it out over time, as the group incurs expenses. Hope that answers your question.

Clay: I have learned that Armstrong is about to wind up its bankruptcy proceeding and that one of the provisions of the settlement will result in approximately $300K being provided to EPA for the company's liability at the Berry's Creek Site.

I write to ask if you can assure me, as Common Counsel for the Berry's Creek Group, that whatever sum EPA takes from that bankruptcy proceeding because of Armstrong's liability for this Site be credited to the Berry's Creek Site costs.

If you want to talk about this, please let me know.

Thanks, John.
